Thermal Series

Thanks to their nanotechnology ceramic coating and ionic structure, they distribute the heat equally to every point on the tube. This technology counters the high heat from concentrating on any single part of the tube and prevents any damage to hair strands. It helps the hair look brighter and more natural. Our products have been made from trees cut in consideration of the ecological balance and have been produced with precision. The wooden handle, the patent of which belongs to us, enables professional gripping and easy handling with its ergonomic structure. The metal tube and wooden handle are heat resistant, extremely durable, and allow long-lasting use.
